Mrs. Nicholas Ends Testimony In Tears

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Connie Nicholas completed her murder trial testimony in tears today, telling the jury her playboy lover was killed as she drew her small revolver to shoot herself.

After the state wound up its cross-examination in only 16 minutes, defense attorney Charles W. Symmes got the divorcee to pin down the motion she said she made with her gun in Forrest Teel's white car.

"Toward myself," she replied. "I told him I wouldn't be around to bother him any more. I wanted to scare him—the fact that I was going to kill myself in his car."

"Were you afraid of further beatings?" Symmes asked.

"I was afraid because he had struck me and had thrown me across the seat of the car."

Dep. Prosecutor Francis E. Thomason came back for one last question on cross-examination:

"Was this the first time he had beaten you?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Nicholas wept as the jury filed out for a recess at the end of her testimony.

"It's been an ordeal," she said as she returned to the defense counsel's table.

"I've got a cold, she explained, 'something I seldom have. My throat is very sore.'"

She appeared in a yellow suit and the black velvet hat which she had worn at the start of the trial four weeks ago.

Mrs. Nicholas, who turned 45 Sunday, testified she weighs 105 pounds and measures 5 feet 1 "if I stretch a little."

Mrs. Nicholas refused to see anyone except her brother, sister and brother-in-law. Hospital authorities said she was bothered by a sore throat and sinus condition and seemed rather nervous.

The shapely defendant broke down and cried several times under questioning by Thomason. She left the courtroom in tears.

Mrs. Nicholas maintains her married lover beat her and that

Two Boys Found With Pet Dog In Marshy Area

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Two scared, tired boys were found in a cave in the Columbia Bottoms area of north St. Louis County early today by county police, 14 hours after they set out on a hike.

Joseph Singen, 16, and his brother, David, 11, were huddled around a fire with their dog when found by officer Robert Crews.

"We heard wildcats in there," the boys told Crews. The younger boy began sobbing on the way home. Crews said the cave is near a quicksand area which last week took the life of a horse.

Footprints of the boys and their dog leading away from a road were spotted by Crews and he followed the prints across a marshy field to the cave.

The boys were found five hours after they were reported missing by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Singen of suburban Ferguson. Five county patrol cars joined in the search.

The boys were taken to the Carico Road area yesterday by their parents. The older boy knows this section well and planned to take a short hike. Friends of the Singens were to pick them up. The boys said the friends never appeared and they decided to take another hike. Columbia Bottoms is a marshy area near the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers.

West Offers Proposal To Reds Today

Would Leave Other Types of Testing For Future Debate

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Britain asked the Soviet Union today to agree to a prompt controlled suspension of nuclear weapons tests on or near the surface of the earth—leaving the problem of other types of blasts for later negotiations.

Informants said the proposal provided for splitting up the test suspension problem. It was advanced as the three-power talks resumed after an Easter recess.

First Soviet reaction was reported to be negative.

Under the new Western plan, agreement would be reached at once on banning surface and atomic nuclear tests—the ones which cause dangerous radioactive fallout.

Such an agreement would not cover very high altitude and underground atomic and hydrogen weapons blasts. Such explosions—difficult to police in any event—could be covered in some subsequent agreement reached after the first problem had been solved.

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore proposed dividing the nuclear problem into two parts with the idea of getting quick agreement on the types of tests easiest to detect.

The ending of such tests also would avoid any health hazards to the world's population.

The sources pointed out that the United States and Britain would prefer an agreement covering the entire range of tests. But the Western powers recognized that this conference, which began its deliberations on Oct. 31, now was bogged down on East-West differences about controls.

Presumably the limited agreement now suggested as a first step would require less elaborate policing arrangements than a total ban. The Western powers, however, want foolproof controls built into any type of agreement they sign.

Soviet Delegate Semyon Tsarapkin told reporters after today's meeting:

"It is not acceptable, we have got to stop everything."

Westerners attending the session got the impression however, that this was an initial reaction and that the Soviet Union would study the new proposal carefully.

The new American-British plan was described as a phased operation designed to salvage something out of the present conference and keep the way clear for ultimate agreement to ban all types of tests.

Case Unsolved

Court Hearing Scheduled On Bullock Life Insurance

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A court hearing was scheduled for today on what is to become of James S. Bullock's $64,500 life insurance.

Bullock, 27, a utility company clerk and night student at St. Louis University, was shot to death last Dec. 17. The slaying remains unsolved.

Three separate claims have been filed against his estate.

His widow, Edna Ruth, wants all the money. She has been in seclusion at her mother's home in Merriam, Kan., since shortly after the murder.

The youth's aunt, Mrs. Walter Duerbeck, with whom he used to live, has sued for about $20,000 of the insurance money.

St. Louis County Public Administrator G. Joseph Neaf has filed suit against the three companies which insured Bullock's life. He said he took the action in case Mrs. Bullock was found guilty of complicity in the crime. If that happened, she would forfeit the right to the money and the proceeds would belong to the estate, which Neaf is administering.

Mrs. Duerbeck's lawyer said he will seek a federal subpoena to return Mrs. Bullock to St. Louis. The Duerbeck suit claims that Mrs. Bullock replaced Mrs. Duerbeck as beneficiary by "use of fraud and deception."

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch said it had learned that an attorney for Mrs. Bullock has offered to have her come back—conditionally.

The conditions include that certain police officers who questioned her originally not be permitted to do so again; that she not be quizzed about her personal life between her divorce from Dr. Glenn Engleman and her remarriage to Bullock, and that she not be asked about Engleman himself or Thomas J. Johnson, school teacher who furnished an alibi for Engleman for the time of the shooting.

The circuit attorney's office is willing to drop questions about Mrs. Bullock's personal life, but didn't like the other conditions.

The three insurance companies paid the money to the registry of the U. S. District Court here and got injunctions to stop temporarily prosecution of the claims.

Once Doomed Elephant On Exhibition

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—Zoo officials will bring Dorothy, the once-doomed circus elephant, back alive to Tulsa this month.

Director Hugh Davis of Tulsa's Mohawk Zoo said the man-killing elephant will be taken from here to her new home April 22.

Davis said Dorothy will be used strictly for exhibition, "although she is an expert performer."

It was two faulty performances which caused her present owner, circus owner Jack Moore, to order her execution.

Moore purchased Dorothy from another circus after she performed a headstand on her trainer, crushing him to death.

He thought he could rehabilitate the elephant, but two weeks ago she repeated her stunt on another trainer. He was injured.

Moore set the execution date for Sunday. A storm of protest followed. So did Davis, who came to Hugo to find out if he could have Dorothy for the zoo. Moore agreed.

Davis said his elephant trainer "says she might straighten up and become a perfect lady."

But they'll take no chances. Her first 60 days in Tulsa, Davis said, the elephant would be shackled inside the elephant building. With the completion of a moat around the building, she'll be unchained.

"We've saved Dorothy's life at no cost to the city," Davis said. "She's a beautiful elephant and will be used only for exhibit."

The cost of shipping Dorothy to Tulsa will be paid by Tulsa radio station manager Bob Hoth, who suggested to Davis the zoo might obtain the doomed elephant.

"Everybody is very happy about the ending to this," said Hoth.

Dulles Future Being Studied

Ike Postpones Decision Pending More Treatment

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower conferred for 45 minutes today with ailing Secretary of State Dulles. They put off any decisions as to Dulles' future official role pending "additional medical observation and treatment."

No resignation has been submitted, the White House said.

Eisenhower flew in from Augusta, Ga., this morning and drove immediately to Walter Reed Army Hospital to see the secretary.

Afterwards, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made the following statements:

"The President met this morning at Walter Reed Hospital with the secretary of state. They of course discussed the secretary's physical condition. They also discussed matters relating to world affairs."

"The secretary of state has returned to Walter Reed for additional medical observation and treatment."

"He is expected to remain at the hospital for some days."

"Pending additional medical evaluation there will be no further statement from the President."

Dulles broke off a recuperative period in Florida to return Sunday to the hospital where he previously had spent a month and a half undergoing radiation and other treatment for a recurrent abdominal cancer.

At the time Dulles went to Florida, there was no indication that he would return to the hospital for additional treatment.

Hagerty told reporters he did not know the nature of this new treatment, or whether surgery or more radiation were involved.

He said those are medical questions to be answered by the doctors.

Hagerty was asked whether he could say if Dulles had submitted a resignation.

"Yes, I can say that," Hagerty replied. "I can say there has been no resignation submitted and I think this statement bears that out."

He declined to say whether Dulles at any time since his illness had turned in a resignation.

Eisenhower has said with regularity that he wants Dulles on the job in some capacity as long as the secretary feels physically able to serve.

Asked whether this possibility still is left open, Hagerty said he would stick to today's statement.

He said he does not know how long Dulles' additional medical evaluation will take.

Asked whether the purpose is to determine the secretary's ability to carry on in his present job, Hagerty said he believes the objective is to determine Dulles' physical condition.

The new treatment of Dulles is expected to get under way in a day or so. When it does, Hagerty said, there will be an announcement.

Eisenhower and Dulles talked for 45 minutes, most of the time alone, Hagerty said.

Afterward, in a maroon dressing gown, Dulles walked down the corridor with Eisenhower to the elevator. The two shook hands there, and said goodbye.

Gottschalk Will Attend Pilgrimage

Paul Dean Gottschalk, son of Paul Gottschalk, Route 3, LaMonte, a sophomore in LaMonte High School, will go on the Sophomore Pilgrimage April 14 to Jefferson City, with other sophomore students who have been selected from over the state. This pilgrimage is a gift of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs to all selected sophomores, and Paul Dean is being sponsored by the Nautilus Club and the Friendship Club of LaMonte.

The pilgrimage will include a tour of the Capitol with an opportunity to see the legislators in action as the legislature will be in session. The young students will meet the elective state officials at luncheon at the Governor Hotel and in the afternoon be conducted on interesting tours. Every attempt is being made to arrange an informative and pleasant day for them and their sponsors.

An interesting legislative program and luncheon at the Missouri Hotel, with leading members of the legislature participating, will be arranged for the women who accompany the sophomores to Jefferson City.

The pilgrimage was first established by an act of the state board of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs in October, 1934, at Sikeston, by Mrs. DeWitt C. Chastain of Butler, president of the MFWC from 1933 to 1936, who requested its establishment. The first pilgrimage was in the spring of 1935. The purpose is to give recognition to those students in the sophomore class of high school who exemplify the highest standards of honor, courage, citizenship, scholarship, leadership and service. The sophomore year is chosen because it is usually when government and citizenship are introduced into the curriculum. The reason for the pilgrimage is that there is a need today for considerate, intelligent and loyal citizenship.

A certificate of merit in citizenship is presented to each sophomore making the pilgrimage.

ARC Committee Holds Meet Thursday

The disaster services committee of the Pettis County chapter of the American Red Cross met Tuesday afternoon in the basement conference room of the First State Savings building, J. E. Norlin, chairman of the committee, presided.

Norlin explained that, because of the tornado season, the Red Cross responsibilities in the event of a natural disaster would be reviewed with the committee.

It was pointed out that the welfare of the people affected is the immediate concern of the Red Cross when disaster strikes. If disaster should occur in Pettis County the committee has first responsibility for action in emergency, in conjunction with local government and other organized groups. The first job of the Red Cross is to provide emergency shelter, food, clothing, and if necessary medical and nursing care for the injured.

The following members of the committee reported readiness in the various phases of disaster service: Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Dean, Damon Hieronymus, John Ryan, Dan Jones, W. A. Schien, Emmett L. Vaughn, George Smethers, Walker DeLapp, Ralph Hamlin, Phillip McLaughlin, T. J. Norris, Mrs. Henry Menefee, and Mrs. Eula Spencer, executive secretary to the chapter. P. A. Sillers and Col. J. W. Donnell, who serve as co-chairmen, were also in attendance.

United Church Women Hold Regular Meet

The United Church Women, Sedalia, met on Friday morning, April 3, at 9:30 at the Broadway Presbyterian Church. After a fellowship coffee, the meeting was opened by a devotional led by Mrs. D. F. Richards with Mrs. M. O. Stevens at the piano for the hymns. Mrs. A. F. Klemme, president, presided over the business. Thirty-eight women representing ten churches were in attendance. Under old business, Mrs. Ray Conn made a report on World Day of Prayer, stating that the attendance was excellent and the spirit of Christian Brotherhood was high.

May Fellowship Day, May 1, was a special emphasis of the new business. Mrs. M. O. Stevens introduced her committee to report on the various aspects of the day. The luncheon will be at First Christian Church beginning at 12:30 with a slight charge. April 28 is the date for reporting the number each church will have for the luncheon. This is to be called in to Mrs. Stevens.

Mrs. Ed D. Sutherland reported that publicity would be given through the various media. William Brown, Sedalia attorney, will be the featured speaker for the day, speaking on the theme, "How Much Is Enough." Each church is urged to have their full number of people there.

Members of United Church Women are urged to purchase sustaining memberships through Mrs. Richard Meisenheimer, treasurer. Each church woman is automatically a member of the United Church Women, but a sustaining membership of one dollar helps to show further devotion to an important phase of church life. One-half of the dollar remains in the local treasury and one-half goes to the state.

The group discussed helping to provide transportation for older Sedalia citizens who wish to attend the Golden Age Club sponsored by the Salvation Army.

The last item of business brought before the group was the State Assembly to be held in Springfield on May 4-6. The program highlights were lifted up and any church woman in Sedalia is encouraged to attend.

Mrs. Sutherland, area chairman for the state, asked for cookies from local churches for the tea and reception on Tuesday evening of the State Assembly. At least two carloads of women will be going from Sedalia to the Assembly for the main session on Tuesday, May 5.

Following the closing prayer by Mrs. Richards, the meeting was adjourned.

Regular Meeting Held By Green Ridge Rebekahs

Green Ridge Rebekah Lodge held its regular meeting Monday night, April 6, at the hall with the Noble Grand, Mrs. Estelle Fletcher, presiding.

Five guests from Loyal Rebekah Lodge, Sedalia, were presented and welcomed. They were: Mrs. Ethel Eirls, Mrs. Permelia Eirls, Mrs. Lena Meyers, Mrs. Gertrude Elkins and Mrs. Mattie Morteny.

The pop meeting of the Central Missouri Association of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs at Carrollton, which was scheduled for Sunday afternoon, April 12, has been changed to April 19.

The Rebekah State Assembly and Grand Lodge will meet at Joplin May 26-27. Mrs. Frances Baslee has been elected delegate of District No. 49 to the Rebekah State Assembly and plans to attend.

It was reported the proceeds from the Easter bake sale would total about $36 as part of it has not been turned in to the treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Heck.

The members decided to invite the La Monte Rebekah Lodge to be their guests at the first meeting in May.

For the good of the order, Mrs. Dorothy Heck read a poem, "Tapistry of Life" and the chaplain, Mrs. Verna Palmer, read the "Prayer of the Month."

The Green Ridge Rebekahs and Odd Fellows will practice the floor drill Monday night, April 13, at the hall, which they plan to take to the Four State Conclave in Kansas City, April 25.

The hostesses, Mrs. Frances Baslee and Mrs. Helen McNew, served refreshments from an attractive table, centered with a centerpiece carrying out the color scheme of pink, blue and silver, the colors of the president of the Rebekah State Assembly, Mrs. Venita Disch. Favors were miniature wheelbarrows filled with mints and nuts. Twenty-four members and guests were present.

Chili Blows Up

CAPE ELIZABETH, Maine (AP)—A bowl of hot chili blew up and set fire to a barge Sunday. Authorities said the chili which erupted on the hot stove set fire to the eating and living quarters of the crew. No one was injured. The fishing vessel Mary J. pulled up alongside and extinguished the blaze.

Blackwater Extension Club Holds Meeting

The Blackwater Township Extension Club held its April meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jerome Younger and Mrs. York Finley. Mrs. W. B. Marshall, president, called the meeting to order at 2 o'clock. Devotional was given by Dr. Anna McNeish. Roll call was answered by 11 members and two visitors, Mrs. Don Schnell and Mrs. Homer Walker.

The program for the day was a book review by Miss Mattie Ezell, reading chairman, who told about the works of O. Henry, gave a history of the short story, and read in a very entertaining manner two of the most popular short stories of O. Henry, "The Gift of the Magi" and "Uncle Bushrod." Both were greatly enjoyed by the listeners.

Mrs. Marshall read a letter from Miss Bernice McVeigh, county home agent, and Mrs. L. O. Griffith read the monthly news letter. Pennies for Friendship were collected. Miss Lillie Schanz led the group in repeating the club collect. Mrs. W. W. Marshall led the club in singing "My Wild Irish Rose" after which the meeting adjourned.

Gray Areas vs. Gray Matter

From time to time we lament the fact that in this complex era there are so many "gray areas" that major decisions of national and world policy often become painfully difficult.

At such moments we look longingly toward the "hard events" of the day, where the only task is to learn and act upon things that have occurred before somebody's eyes.

They of course run the gamut from trivial pleasures to tragedy.

Dolly B. wins the fifth at Hialeah. A gangster takes the fifth in Washington before the McClellan committee. Secretary of State Dulles tries a swim in Florida. Two ships collide in the Atlantic. And so on.

But are all of these events quite so neat as they seem?

Where accidents are concerned, the answer has to be "No."

The cruise ship Santa Rosa collided with a tanker off the U. S. coast. Plain enough. Yet at the hearing on the matter, highly conflicting testimony was presented as to the respective positions and courses of action of the two vessels.

The accident really did happen in a certain way. But how do you extract the truth from such widely varying accounts? You can't split the difference, as House-Senate conferees do in effort to reconcile opposing views on a major bill.

The same problem arose at the time of the fatal collision in 1956 of the liners Andrea Doria and Stockholm, which led to the Doria's sinking. A fully accurate picture of that disaster is still denied us by conflicts in the testimony of principals and witnesses.

Then there was that plane crash in New York's East River this past February.

Government investigators do a remarkable job in ferreting out the causes of accidents in those instances where planes crash without survivors. To be able to question, as in this case, a surviving copilot, flight engineer and other witnesses is a windfall to be welcomed by any investigator.

Yet the public hearing on the Feb. 3 Electra crash almost disintegrated in confusion and conflict. Even with two of the three men present who were in charge of the plane at the moment of disaster, no clear image emerged.

If truth is this elusive in the realm of hard, physical events, how dare we complain that there is so much gray in the complicated zones of policy?

Apparently it's no tougher to decide between five billion dollars or three billion dollars for foreign aid than it is to determine what a certain plane altimeter read at 11:57 p.m. on the night of Feb. 3.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Lame Duck Appointments Are Misfits

WASHINGTON — Pity the poor Secretary of Labor when the President won't agree with his policies. As a result, Jim Mitchell tells labor leaders one thing, yet has to do exactly the opposite.

As a further result, Mitchell did not appear before the House ways and means committee last week when it was considering the very important bill requiring federal standards for states to qualify for labor compensation. Privately Mr. Mitchell was for the bill, but the White House had told him to oppose it.

Therefore, Under Secretary of Labor O'Connell appeared before the congressmen instead. "Where is Secretary Mitchell?" inquired Congressman Hale Boggs of Louisiana. "Is he ill or indisposed — or what is the problem?"

"The secretary had a personal appointment out of town," replied the under secretary of labor, "which he made every effort to adjust to the timing of the committee and found himself unable to do so."

Later investigation, however, showed that all day long the secretary of labor was in his office just a few blocks away from the capitol.

More Lame Ducks

Rewarding deserving congressmen is an old political pastime practiced by both parties. Sometimes it produces efficient government servants. Frequently it puts a square peg in a round hole.

To illustrate, here are two of the latest lame duck appointments.

1. Ex-Sen. Frank Barrett of Wyoming has just secured a $19,000 job as general counsel of the agriculture department. In this job he is supposed to protect the interests of small farmers.

In the Senate, out of 30 votes for Rural Electrification, Barrett voted against REA and the small farmer 27 times. He also voted against farmers on most public power issues, twice against the school lunch-farm surplus program, and has consistently befriended the big packing companies against the farmers.

2. Ex-Congressman Antoni Sadlak of Connecticut has been made assistant manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Hartford. Salary $11,355.

In Congress Sadlak voted lackadaisically with much veterans legislation but opposed veterans on public housing, aid to schools, and the $10,000,000 increase for veterans hospitals.

MEXICO LEDGER: Your Right To Know—

The plain idiosyncy of some things done by bureaucrats in our government in the suppression of information, surpasses all imagination at times.

Recently Congressman H. R. Gross, of Iowa, quoted the following:

From a report by the Freedom of information committee of Sigma Delta Chi (journalism fraternity) and other sources, we list below some absurd examples of secrecy, he states in the Reader's Digest:

The State department refused to list the number of unofficial Russians traveling in the United States. This obviously, had to be kept secret from the Kremlin.

Pictures of lush furnishings in a military transport plane were stamped secret.

Government experts translate technical articles from Russian scientific journals and mark them translations secret.

The Pentagon has affixed for military-use only classification on official weather data. But anyone, including the Soviet ambassador, can dial the Pentagon, ask for extension 7-9353, and get the weather forecast from a recording which concludes: "This information is for military use only and dissemination to the public is not authorized."

The Department of Labor censored statistics on armed services' purchases of peanut butter on the grounds that this would bare the number of men in the services. At the same time the Defense department was issuing monthly reports on the number of men in service.

These are only a few isolated instances. There are others, unquestionably.

We can understand some people in our government wanting to bury their mistakes.

But we cannot understand any body in our government who does not believe in, and live by, the overwhelming truth:

The strength of a democracy is a well-informed voter.

One was when he blasted the Dan Schorr story on Dulles's resignation as "about as low a form of reporting as I know of . . . about as irresponsible reporting as I know of."

The blast followed shortly after another low moment which Jim experienced in the Crescent Bar in Washington, when, at 1:30 a. m., he demanded service at the bar against federal law in the District of Columbia. You must sit, not stand, while drinking in the nation's capital.

When the manager insisted on serving Jim at a table, as required by law, the irate White House spokesman went outside and came back with a police lieutenant, demanding that he make the manager enforce the law.

Since the manager was already enforcing the law, and since Jim has been in Washington six years — long enough to know the law — the officer finally persuaded him to calm down and obey the law by drinking his drink at a table.

Which Way Nasser?

Uncensored reports from Egypt indicate that Colonel Nasser is gnashing his teeth so vigorously over Iraq's exit from the Arab bloc that he may exit from the Communists — this time for keeps.

Nasser has played Washington off against Moscow for six years, first getting a promise from one for the Aswan Dam, then a promise from the other, then economic aid, then arms. Latest development in this Near Eastern seesaw is a move by U. S. Ambassador Raymond Hare to increase U. S. economic aid to Dictator Nasser in case Russia withdraws its support. Hare was acting under instructions from Washington. Apparently the State Department still trusts Nasser.

Meanwhile, in Moscow the Russians were also offering him more aid and even went to the extent of stopping the migration of Jews from Rumania. This is something Nasser has raved and ranted against. So, to please him, the gates were clamped down on 150,000 Jews who still want to leave Rumania for Israel.

So far, however, Nasser seems to be coy.

Significantly, other Arab states, namely Saudi Arabia, Lebanon, Sudan and Morocco, have refused to join Nasser in his propaganda campaign against Iraq. The four Arab sister states have offered instead to mediate the Iraqi-Egyptian dispute in order to preserve Arab unity.

Communist Hell Is Best

John L. Lewis is coming out from under his bushy eyebrows long enough to tell this story about a Polish Communist leader who died and went to Hell, where he was confronted with two gates, one marked for "Communists," the other for "Capitalists."

He sent for the Devil, who explained that sinners behind both gates met the same fate. "They are roasted on a spit over burning coals."

"Well, if there's no difference, why do so many sinners prefer the Communist Hell, judging by the number going through that gate?" inquired the Polish Communist.

"In Communist Hell," replied Satan, "one week there is no delivery of coal. The next week the furnace is out of order. The next, the coal handler is drunk. Believe me, Comrade, the Communist Hell is much better."

The Last Survivor

There is only one survivor of the war between the states. He is Walter Williams of Houston, Texas. He was 116 years old last November and has been in declining health for many months. His Confederate contemporary, John Salling, died recently at the age of 112.

In 1961, one hundred years will have passed since the beginning of that fatal conflict which nearly split the union of the United States. With the passing of Walter Williams, which is sure to come before very long, it might be well to let the centennial year of the Civil War go unmarked, except in the continuing effort to "bind up the nation's wounds" from which we are still suffering.

After a hundred years, it is time to strive harder than ever to live as one nation in harmony and to meet current problems with united effort.

How Much Checkup on Income Returns?

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Just how much of a looking over will the Internal Revenue Service give my income tax return for 1958?

A lot of people may be wondering that, since the deadline for filing returns is Wednesday.

This year, IRS says, there will be returns from around 60 million individuals, 975,000 corporations, and a million partnerships, plus 20 million employment tax returns, and 3 million returns on federal excise, alcohol and tobacco taxes. There will be 260 million documents involving those returns.

That's a lot of looking over for the 50,000 people employed by IRS in its nine regional, 64 district, and 900 branch offices. Of the 50,000, about 15,500 are auditors but a lot of the others are used in checking returns.

In the case of some of the biggest corporations, IRS assigns three to five agents all year around because they have complexities never dreamed of by an individual taxpayer.

Last year 2,841,000 returns—including 159,000 from corporations—were completely checked. This means more than just checking the arithmetic. A complete check means auditors went over the books of corporations or the records of individuals.

This year about 30 million people will have used the short-form 1040 because they made less than $10,000 in salary and fitted other requirements for using this simple return. These get looked over to see that the exemptions tally.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Dr. William Martin Carter, pioneer dentist of Sedalia, died unexpectedly while directing work in fighting a small roof fire at his home, Seventh and Grand.

1934

Death toll from the explosion at the Missouri Pacific shops Wednesday evening, April 11, was up to five Friday afternoon, April 13.

1934

Dimmitt Hoffman, Sedalia, filed at Jefferson City Friday, April 13, as candidate for the Republican nomination for judge of the tenth judicial circuit.

1934

S. F. Smith with his wife and four children moved from Wrensburg to Sedalia and was residing at 1608 South Stewart. He took over operation of the Sedalia-Clinton bus line.

1934

The Rev. Ralph Hurd was to tell of his varied experiences during 21 months he spent in services in France, at the First Methodist Church Sunday morning.

1919

John W. Sims, real estate agent, left for a business visit at Port Worth and other points in Texas.

1919

My America League members held a meeting at the courthouse to plan for a big reception for members of the 35th Division from this area, who were to be accorded a welcome home.

1919

W. B. Richards formerly proprietor of the YMCA cafeteria, was appointed steward of the Sedalia Country Club.

But they can be run through electronic computer machines which not only can determine the tax but can figure out whether you overpaid or still owe some tax.

All those reporting income over $10,000 not only get their arithmetic checked but also get a going over by an experienced agent to see whether the return should be accepted or turned over to an auditor for deeper examination.

The auditing can be done by calling in the taxpayer for a conference or sending an agent to his home or office to examine his records. The 2,841,000 returns audited last year brought the government an extra 1½ billion dollars.

Last year IRS found 1,905,000 errors in making the simple arithmetic check. Of that total, 1,245,000 taxpayers had made errors in their own favor. IRS usually tries to get a delinquent taxpayer to file a return. If he doesn't, IRS can file it for him and then set out to collect.

What happens if IRS audits your return and then decides you owe more tax?

You are notified but you can appeal to IRS.

First, through a conference with the agent who examined your return and with his supervisor. Then if you are still not convinced, with special technical advisers who work in IRS separately from the agents.

If after all this you and the service still don't agree, IRS will issue what is called a statutory notice this means within those 90 days you must appeal to the U. S. tax court or pay up.

Suppose you ignore the 90-day notice, don't appeal, and don't pay up. IRS presents you with a bill. Then either you pay or IRS will try to collect by seizing your salary, your car, or other possessions.

Last year IRS issued 73,000 statutory notices. But 66,000 people who got them paid up within the 90-day limit. That left 7,000 to fight it out in court.

In case of a downright evasion of tax a criminal charge can be made. But out of 60 million taxpayers, IRS says, only about 1,000 face criminal action each year.

Dr. Jordan Says

Kidney Disease May Strike Body In Variety of Forms

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Numerous readers, including Mrs. C. K., have asked for another discussion of nephritis. This is a disease of the kidneys, which is also called Bright's disease.

There are several varieties of nephritis, but probably the most common and most serious is that which afflicts particularly children and young adults.

This goes under the technical name of glomerular nephritis. The associated inflammation can be of sudden onset and produce acute symptoms and signs, or can be chronic in nature.

Probably most cases of acute nephritis result from—or at least follow — infection of the nose, throat or upper breathing passages with germs of the streptococcus family.

In other words, this is frequently associated with sore throat, tonsillitis, the common cold, sinusitis, rheumatic fever, scarlet fever and other disorders caused by the streptococcus. Sometimes such definite infection cannot be identified as a forerunner of acute nephritis.

The line of attack on acute nephritis is therefore aimed at the precipitating cause, if one can be identified. Thus if a source or focus of infection, such as diseased tonsils, can be found, these are often best removed.

In addition, bed rest during the acute phase of the illness is generally desirable as is the attention to diet and often to medication.

Since some of the antibiotics, like penicillin, attack certain streptococci, treatment with such substances is often considered, although the evidence for their value in many cases of acute nephritis is conflicting. A high proportion of those who have a single attack of acute nephritis recover completely.

Chronic nephritis, or Bright's disease, is probably more serious. Some develop chronic nephritis from the acute variety. But perhaps most of those with chronic Bright's disease are not aware of ever having had an acute attack.

Among the common signs of chronic nephritis are the gradual accumulation of fluids in some of the tissues (edema or dropsy), recurrent headaches often associated with some high blood pressure, and shortness of breath. But it is not at all unusual to discover chronic nephritis by finding albumin in the urine without any complaints.

The chronic form of Bright's disease always requires attention. Accurate diagnosis of the damage to the kidneys is the first step. Avoidance of fatigue is important.

Depending on the symptoms and signs, it may be necessary to institute dietary restrictions, measures to promote elimination of excessive tissue fluids, and other procedures.

The severity of chronic Bright's disease varies a great deal from one person to another. Hence the outlook and treatment are not the same for all those afflicted.

Educator, a Former Versailles Man, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. William Jacob Baumgartner, 87, an educator and father of New York City Health Commissioner Dr. Leona Baumgartner, died yesterday.

He died of pneumonia at St. Barnabas Hospital for chronic diseases in the Bronx.

A native of Versailles, Mo., he was a former professor of zoology at the University of Kansas. He was managing editor of the university's science bulletin from 1914 to 1920 and served on its board for another 30 years.

He retired from the university in 1949 and came here to live with his daughter three years ago.

Coal was first found in West Virginia by John Peter Sally in 1742. He found an outcropping of coal in Boone County beside an unnamed river. He immediately named it Coal River.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

By Russell A. Mann Jr.
Of Our Jefferson City Bureau

Two More Announce For State Office

Two more persons have announced their candidacies for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State in the 1960 primary election. They are: Sen. John P. Barrett, St. Louis, and Rep. Warren Hearn, East Prairie.

Hearn is currently serving a fifth term in the state House of Representatives. He is serving a second term as majority floor leader.

Barrett first was elected to the state Senate in 1954 to fill an unexpired term.

First candidate to file for the office of Secretary of State was Walter H. Toberman, the incumbent, who seeks a fourth term.

Committee Recommends Wage Act Exemptions

A sub committee headed by Robert Young, (D., St. Louis County), recommended to the House Labor Committee that public construction jobs costing less than $10,000 be exempted from provisions of the Prevailing Wage Act. This is a compromise between labor union forces who favor the Act and rural forces who want the Act repealed.

Rep. Charles James, (D., Dunklin), who authored a repeal bill as well as the measure which finally has become a compromise, now is turning his attention to getting action as soon as possible by the House on the compromise. The bill still must go through a Senate mill on the way to the governor.

Little opposition is expected. Adverse action on a compromise bill could be considered tantamount to a double-cross.

Cigaret Tax Increase May Be Heard Again

A proposal to increase the state tax on cigarettes by one-cent a pack may not be a dead letter yet. A move is underway to resurrect the proposed increase which has been turned down by the House once.

The cigarette tax is one of Governor Blair's "painless" tax increases designed to balance the budget. Money from the cigarette tax is earmarked for public schools.

Governor Blair says, for one thing, that he finds it difficult to understand why P.T.A. groups have not been more vocal in getting more support from the Assembly for public schools.

Calls For Help on Safety Bills

Rep. William Turpin, (D., Pike), has called for help from citizens of the state in getting traffic safety legislation through the House. A great deal of such legislation proposed by a between-sessions committee headed by Turpin has run into trouble, much of it unexpected.

Latest traffic safety bill to meet near disaster in the House is one to establish a point system for suspension and revocation of driver's licenses. Turpin took the bill off the floor when he thought attempts were being made to ruin it.

A similar-type point system is used in Iowa and is credited with reducing the traffic accident rate and automobile insurance rates there, as well. The bill has the strong backing of Governor Blair, the Automobile Club of Missouri, and others.

The bill establishes a 2-point demerit for any moving violation:

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

Q. "Will you please tell me what causes strep throat followed by Bell's palsy?" — Mrs. C.

A. "Strep" is short for streptococcus, a germ which causes infections in various parts of the body, the throat included. Bell's palsy, in which the muscles of one side of the face are partially paralyzed due to involvement of the facial nerve, can follow infections but the true cause of the condition is very often unknown. The paralysis of Bell's palsy usually starts to clear up within one to several months.

Q. "This may sound like a silly question but it doesn't feel funny. I am 21 and for several months I have had a tickle in my throat that makes me cough. I also sneeze a lot. What do you suggest?" — Miss T.

A. The only suggestion is to see a physician and let him find out what's wrong. Constant throat tickle with cough might be due to any number of things, from nose or throat irritation to an elongated uvula (the little finger-like projection that hangs from the soft palate).

Q. "My skin breaks out every time I wear nylon stockings or other pieces of clothing containing nylon. Is there any way to overcome this other than by avoiding nylon clothing?"

A. No. So far as is known, there is no really effective way to desensitize against nylon. Just avoid nylon clothing.

Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Vertical Increase Desirable

Farm Size Is Figured On Its Production

By O. T. Coleman
MU Extension Soils Specialist

Which would you say is cheaper, more acres or a few tons of limestone? Well, I think you'll find it's more profitable to add proper amounts of fertilizer and lime to the acres you already have than to buy additional acres. Because really, the size of the farm should be figured on the basis of how much it produces, rather than how many acres it has. You'll find it costs less to increase the yields of the acres you have than to buy additional acres. We call this "increasing acreage vertically". To know the proper amounts of fertilizer and lime to use, of course, you will need a soil test.

Like most farmers, you can actually make your farm "bigger" by applying the amounts and kinds of lime and fertilizer that will supply the soil with nutrients needed for top yields. By doing this, the soil you already have can produce more bushels of corn and small grains, more tons of pasture, hay and silage, resulting in more pounds of milk, beef and pork without investing in more equipment and farming more acres. In other words, maybe it will be best for you to follow the old saying, "Do the best you can with what you've got, where you are".

Fertilizer and lime properly used furnish you with the best means of getting highest returns from the land you have. And the best way to find out how to make best use of fertilizer and lime is a soil test. But if your soil samples are not properly taken, you may be disappointed in the results. For best net returns per acre from the soil treatments you apply, make sure the soil samples you take represent the surface seven inches of each different kind of soil in each field you test. And each of these samples should contain at least five individual samples mixed together.

Don't forget these tests are tests of the soil itself and not of treatments previously applied. The soil treatments you have applied in recent years may not have affected the soil as yet, so they will not show up completely in your soil test results. That's why, when you take your soil samples to your county agent for testing, you must make sure you tell him what plant foods you have applied within the last four or five years. Then he can give you credit for these treatments when he suggests fertilizer ap-

HANDLING FACILITIES — If you still have to have the wife and kids and dog help you get your livestock penned before shipment to market, handling facilities would be a welcomed investment as it was to Mrs. J. H. Frederick and Bill Pittman. This spring these folks built holding pens and squeeze alley adjacent to scales and barn that were on the site.

After livestock enters the squeeze alley they can be run on the scales, sorted into two pens or run into the holding or loading chute. Give considerable thought on the design and location before you are ready to build. Would be best to go see one and talk about changes for improvement.

Returns on Hog Marketings

Last week I received the returns on the seven pens of hogs that were graded at the hog meeting April 1 and shipped to the Kansas City Market. The hogs were all bought by Swift and Co. and the kill information was supplied by Joe Hynes, their head hog buyer. It was relayed to me by Jim Leathers of the Kansas City Livestock Market Foundation.

This material from the market is based on definite measurements and tables. Each carcass was measured for length and the backfat was measured for thickness at the first rib, the last rib and half way between No. 2 and the tail.

A carcass of a certain length can have only a specified thickness of back fat. A choice breeding gilt with a 29-31 inch carcass is allowed a maximum of 1.5 inches of back fat. A boar of the same size should not have over 1.3 inches. Market hogs should follow similar specifications. That means roughly that a No. 1 should not have over 1.5 inches and a No. 2 not over 1.9 inches of backfat.

Judges April 1 used Different Interpretations

Chuck Callaghan, a buyer from Wilson Packing Co. appeared to be the top judge at the April 1 meeting. He and his colleagues seemed to be saying that the hogs they wanted to buy were No. 1's and those lacking in condition were No. 2's. They also put some heavy hogs as No. 2's that measured out No. 3's on the rail. In Mr. Leathers' letter he said "It was far too expensive to get the primal cut breakdown on each carcass, but if this were possible, I am sure that you would find that the primal cut basis would correspond more closely to the grades that were applied by our local commission men and packer buyers, instead of just back fat and length."

Compare Kill Results With Live Grades

Now here are the figures of the two methods of grading. The top pen here went to J. R. Renison. The hogs averaged 217 pounds and were graded four No. 1's and six No. 2's. At Kansas City five of the animals had two inches of backfat so had to grade No. 3's even though they had a long carcass (averaged 30.8 inches). The other five measured three No. 1's and two No. 2's. The second pen, that of Forrest Reid, measured out eight No. 1's and one No. 2 even though they were considerably shorter hogs. They averaged 28 inches long, and weighed 200 pounds. On foot they were graded four No. 1's and six No. 2's. The third pen, that of John Knaus measured out ten No. 1's and one No. 3 and weighed 199 pounds. They averaged 29.5 inches in length but the No. 3 was only 28 inches long and had two inches of backfat. Here they had graded nine No. 1's and two No. 2's. Stevens McClure's hogs measured out five No. 1's, three No.

Reserve Program Out Due to Acre Boost

Discontinuance of the Acreage Reserve Program is credited with part of the jump in number of crop acres farmers intend to plant.

Farmers planting intentions as of 1 March indicate nearly 340 million acres of crops for 1959. This is eight and one-half million acres more than 1958. About 17 million acres were released from soil bank this year when acreage reserve obligations were stopped.

Additional sign-up of land in the Conservation Reserve increased the acreage in that program by about 13 million acres over 1958. But on many of the major farms, says USDA, substantial acreages were released for planting from the Acreage Reserve Program with small sign-up in the Conservation Reserve.

2's and two No. 3's. Their average length was 30.13 inches and they weighed 227 pounds. On foot they graded exactly the same way. The W. C. Corlew hogs had one light one that weighed only 174 pounds. It measured out a medium as lacking in size and condition to grade No. 1. The other nine measured No. 1, the ten weighed 190 pounds, and the average carcass length was 29 3/4 inches.

Another pen that came out about even both ways was that of Paul Stephens. They measured out five No. 1's and four No. 2's and the average length was 30.2-3 inches. The April 1 grade was five No. 1's and five No. 2's. They weighed 228 pounds. The Frank Sellers hogs were the reverse again. On foot they were graded down as No. 2's for lacking finish. However they only weighed 202 pounds and all measured out No. 1's. Their average length was 30.2 inches.

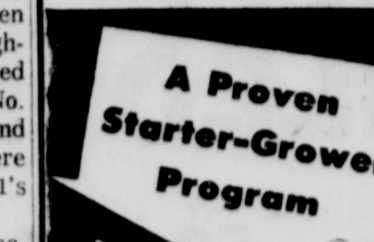

Judging from the above you can see there is still some confusion in grades. However, as I quoted Jim Leathers above, they want a hog that combines a good plump ham, a well developed loin and a good trim shoulder.

Plans are being laid to call the committee together soon to make plans for another grading meeting in mid-summer.

Worst Weed Pest

Johnson Grass Spreading Over Missouri Farmlands

By William Murphy
MU Extension Field Crops Specialist

Johnson Grass is one of our worst weed pests in Missouri and it's spreading fast. It also seems to be gradually becoming more winter hardy. In other words, it's spreading further north each season with some infestations as far north as the Iowa state line. A few counties in North Missouri apparently don't have this weed as yet, but it has shown that it can grow all over the state.

Johnson Grass is a hard weed to handle, but it can be killed. If you don't have Johnson grass growing on your farm as yet, be on the look-out for it and be ready to act immediately. This weed looks a lot like Sudan grass, but, unlike Sudan, it is a perennial plant and has a spreading underground root system. It can also reproduce by seed. So, if you find plants that look like Sudan grass but that spread by means of white roots, kill these plants before you have a real problem.

Perhaps you've already just a small amount of Johnson grass. If so you'll need to get rid of it or you'll soon have a big patch and a big problem. Chemical control with such materials as sodium chlorate or Dalapon is expensive, if used on a large area, but is practical on small patches. Many of you already have big infestations of Johnson grass to fight. Then the question becomes one of whether to try just for control or whether to attempt complete eradication.

On land subject to overflow, where new seed of Johnson grass is continually brought in from upstream, it may be necessary to work just on keeping the weed under control.

In this case, eradication is likely to be too costly and may be impossible. But when possible, eradication is best in the long run. None of the control measures that we now have are either expensive or easy. They include such things as pasturing heavily for several years, then plowing in November to turn up the weakened roots where most will be winter killed. Then it will be necessary to spot treat any surviving plants, and, of course, destroy seedlings before they get well established.

Mowing frequently can have much the same effect as heavy pasturing. Clean cultivation for two years can get a kill. A winter-growing small grain crop, such as wheat or barley, can be combined with clean cultivation and provide a return from the land. Or alfalfa can be grown, and by mowing frequently for hay, will have a thinning and weakening effect on the Johnson grass. But most of these measures will need to be followed up by some spot treatment with chemicals for a final cleanup.

If you have Johnson grass, see your county extension agent for detailed control information. Decide whether your situation calls for eradication or control, and plan your fight accordingly. If you don't have Johnson grass on your farm as yet, keep on the watch for it. If it shows, eradicate. When you plant any seed, be sure it's clean and has no Johnson grass seed in it. Johnson grass may be spread from farm to farm by combines during harvest season, also. Guard against Johnson grass, because once it gets a foothold on any of your land, it's a hard weed to control.

Vegetables Can Now Be Planted For Next Spring

Let's look ahead for a minute and instead of thinking about vegetables to harvest this year, think about vegetables we'll need to plant this year so they can be harvested next spring.

Two "old reliables" fall into this category. Many Missouri gardeners already have established stands of these two, asparagus and rhubarb.

Both need to be planted this month to start good growth, but you'll have to wait to harvest the first cutting until next spring.

Art Gaus, Missouri extension vegetable crops specialist, says the best variety to plant for asparagus is Mary Washington variety; for rhubarb, either the McDonald or Canada Red varieties. You'll want to plant both these perennial vegetables on fertile, well-drained soil and use a top-dress application of fertilizer each year.

Now, for asparagus, Gaus says it does not pay to plant two- or three-year-old plants rather than the one-year-old crowns. The one-year-old plants will grow more vigorously.

Another belief some folks have about asparagus is that it's a good idea to salt the bed to reduce soil acidity. Gaus says this is definitely a bad practice. Use limestone rather than salt. Salt destroys soil tilth and eventually the asparagus bed.

So, if you like asparagus and rhubarb, now is the time to plant these perennial favorites that provide the first garden-fresh vegetables for Missouri tables.

Use Early Weed Spray On Cornland

Many Missouri corn farmers are finding it a pretty good practice to use a "pre-emergence" weed spray on cornland. University of Missouri Extension Field Crops Specialist Ross Fleetwood says such a spraying gives corn a good weed and grass-free start.

You apply a pre-emergence spray after corn is planted but before it comes up. You spray right on the ground and most of the grasses and weeds which germinate during the next three to five weeks will be controlled.

What spray material should you use for pre-emergence spraying? Fleetwood says the chemical 2,4-D is still the most practical material; however, there are others that can be used. A couple of these are "Radox" and "Simazin", but both are fairly expensive and are most practical for use in spot or band treatment.

A good way to apply this pre-emergence spray is right at time of corn planting. Attach spray equipment to the corn planter and do both operations at the same time if possible. Actually, you can wait till corn plants have begun to "spike up" through the soil before you spray, says Fleetwood. But, a change in weather could keep you from spraying, and, if the corn leaves begin to form, it's too late to spray as a pre-emergence application. So, the field crops specialist says its safest to make your pre-emergence spraying immediately after corn planting.

Your county extension agent can give you the details on pre-emergence corn spraying. Remember, you'll want to spray after you plant corn, but before it comes up, so you'll need to get equipment and spray material ready soon.

Athletics Exchange Two Utility Men For Yankee Rookies

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Shortstop Mike Baxes and outfielder Bob Martyn, both utility men, were traded by the Kansas City Athletics Sunday to the New York Yankees for two rookies.

The A's also sent along an undisclosed amount of cash to get shortstop Tom Carroll, 22, and outfielder Russell Snyder, 24, from Richmond, the Yanks' farm in the International League.

Baxes, 28, started last season as the Athletics' second baseman, but he was used sparingly after a mid-season injury and hit only .212 in 73 games. Martyn, also 28, batted .278 in 95 games.

Ninth Inning Wonder Back In Business

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The ninth inning wonders are back in business.

It was a year ago that the San Francisco Giants began an intriguing habit pulling out games in the final inning. Nearly a third of their victories were achieved thus.

The 1958 season is only in its infancy and already the Giants have won two of their three games in the closing frame.

They did it for the second time Sunday, scoring three in the ninth to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals for the third consecutive day. The score was 6-3.

Sunday's triumph moved the Giants into first place, a half game in front of the Milwaukee Braves, who won the only two games they have played. Snow prevented the Braves from playing their scheduled game in Pittsburgh.

In the only other league action, Los Angeles defeated Chicago 5-3. The scheduled doubleheader between the Cincinnati Reds and Phillies in Philadelphia was postponed because of rain.

Weather permitted only two games to be played in the American League. Chicago's White Sox made it three in a row over Detroit with a 5-3 triumph. New York's Yankees, after two postponements, finally got under way and edged the Boston Red Sox 3-2.

Rain washed out the scheduled twin bill at Washington between Baltimore and the Senators, and the single game at Kansas City between Cleveland and the Athletics.

For one inning it looked like the Cardinals might finally win their first game of the season. They scored three runs in the first against left-hander Mike McCormick on hits by Don Blasingame, Gino Cimoli and Ken Boyer plus three Giant errors.

The Giants tied the score with two in the fifth after scoring one in the third. Then, in the ninth with two out, Orlando Cepeda's triple drove in Jim Davenport, who had beat out a bunt to Cardinal pitcher Vinegar Bend Mizell. Felipe Alou iced the game with a home run.

Al (Red) Worthington, with two hitless relief innings, was credited with the victory. The Giants now have made 13 extra base hits in three games.

Los Angeles got two runs back in the fourth on rookie catcher Norm Sherry's two-run single. In the seventh, outfielder Don Demeter slammed a home run with Charley Neal on base to put the Dodgers in front 4-3. They added another run in the eighth on a double by Gil Hodges and Ron Fairly's single.

Graft Is Ordered For Thomas' Foot

BOSTON (AP)—A skin graft to speed the healing on his left foot has been ordered for world record high jumper John Thomas of Boston University.

Thomas was sent back to Massachusetts Memorial Hospital from the BU infirmary Saturday by Dr. Chester Howe after he examined the foot John caught in an elevator door March 24.

Thomas bettered the recognized world high jump mark in February with a leap of 7 feet 1 1/4 inches.

Dr. Howe said Thomas would be hospitalized about five days before the grafting would be done, then would remain another week to 10 days.

Torch Alshire Wins

Crafty Vet Takes Marshall Car Race

Torch Aleshire, the crafty driving Moberly veteran, chalked up his second consecutive modified stock car feature race victory Sunday afternoon before a chilled, but enthusiastic crowd of 1,200 at Marshall's Sportsman's Speedway.

In winning, the popular Aleshire increased his early lead in the Central Missouri Racing Association's point derby. He was the champion in 1956 and 1957, but Slater's Ken Taylor replaced him as the leading driver in 1958.

Driving the Urgas Special, Aleshire beat Ken Taylor into the first turn on the quarter-mile oval and kept the lead throughout the 25 lap race. Taylor finished second and Bill Davis of Richmond was third. Mechanical difficulties sent Walter Sorrels, Roy and Russ Hibbard to the pits during the feature battle.

The CMRA changed its rules on fuel this season, removing all restrictions. Aleshire, an expert driver in any league, is apparently profiting by this change and getting a amazing performance from his Studebaker engine by using Urgas propane. He was the first to switch from gasoline, but other drivers have indicated they will make the change too if it's necessary to keep pace.

Ken Taylor set fast time in the time trials with an 18.19 clocking. Following Taylor were Aleshire, Roy Hibbard and Walter Sorrels — four favorites of CMRA race fans. Taylor, for the second consecutive week, was an easy winner in the five lap trophy dash.

Ken Harper of Carrollton won the first heat race, nosing out Jim Raines of Marshall Junction and Bob Yokeley of Blue Lick. Tubby Mast of Moberly sped off with the checkered flag in the second heat race, besting Harold Cromley of Marshall and Doug Crank of Sweet Springs.

Fast Times in Trials: 1. Ken Taylor (18.19); 2. Torch Aleshire (18.22); 3. Roy Hibbard (18.26); 4. Walter Sorrels (18.27).

'Big Three' Of Comedy Holds Meet

BY BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The big international news this week is the summit conference of the Big Three of comedy — France's Jacques Tati, England's Stan Laurel and America's Mack Sennett.

Their decision: the world needs more pantomime comedy.

The meeting came about because of a remark by Tati in an interview months ago. He said that if he ever went to Hollywood, he would like to meet and pay homage to Laurel and Sennett. When the French comedy maker came to get an Oscar for "My Uncle" as the best foreign language film, I arranged the meeting.

It took place on the porch of the Garden Court Apartments, a block from Grauman's Chinese on Hollywood boulevard. Sennett, who is recovering from a gallstone operation, has lived there for years. Stan, the thin, surviving member of the great Laurel and Hardy team, came in from his seaside home.

Said Tati in his near-perfect English: "I want to thank both of you for all of the pleasure you have given me over the years and all I have learned from you. You may not realize it, but in France, your films are still played every week. We have clubs that study and analyze your films. You are not forgotten."

Sennett and Laurel, both modest men, accepted the thanks humbly. Mack complimented Tati on his films and said he compared favorably to Charlie Chaplin, whom Sennett discovered. Laurel apologized for not having seen them because of ill health.

It was Laurel who got the biggest laugh. Mentally alert despite a stroke that paralyzed his left side, he commented about his future work: "I'm available, but only for statue roles."

There was much laughter at the meeting: Hollywood boulevard rang with Laurel's great cackle, Sennett's booming guffaw and Tati's Gallic giggling.

They discussed their volume of work. Perfectionist Tati had made but four films, Laurel "a couple of hundred," Sennett 1,000—"but I started early." They talked and laughed for almost an hour, then parted, the two older men returning to retirement and Tati going back to France to continue his work for the pantomime art.

Confusion Cause
RICHMOND, Va. — Carbon monoxide causes mental confusion before asphyxiation, says Dr. Geoffrey T. Mann, Virginia's chief medical examiner. He says this is one of the reasons why so many persons fail to escape in home fires.

COUNTERBLOCKADE?—The possibility of a naval blockade of Russian access to the Mediterranean and North seas has been mentioned in Washington as a possible answer to any Soviet attempt to squeeze the Allies out of Berlin. Newsmap above shows how Turkey and Denmark, both members of NATO, would be key countries in such a move. One could command entry into the Black Sea and the other the Baltic.

US Plans to Launch Satellite in Step To Exploring Venus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to launch a 50-pound satellite next month as a preliminary step toward exploring the planet Venus.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said Sunday night the launching will be attempted from Cape Canaveral, Fla., under NASA supervision. He said a follow-up attempt probably will be made in June to send a satellite into the vicinity of Venus.

Next month's satellite, equipped with four rectangular fins, will have a solar battery much more powerful than the one contained in Vanguard I. The first Vanguard, launched almost 13 months ago, still is orbiting and its solar-powered transmitter is still sending signals. The fins on the planned satellite will provide more area for gathering solar energy.

NASA hopes the new satellite will orbit at a peak altitude of 20,000 to 30,000 miles, dipping to a low altitude of 200 miles. It will

Christmas Tradition Under Investigation

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A plant with joyous yuletide connotations—the mistletoe—is under investigation in the ever-widening search for new chemicals to fight cancer.

A team of Buffalo, N.Y., researchers reported Sunday they had confirmed earlier findings that there is antitumor activity against certain animal cancers in plants of the loranthus (mistletoe) family.

Researcher Oleg S. Selawsky and two colleagues of Roswell Park Memorial Institute told the closing session of the 50th annual meeting of the American Assn. for Cancer Research that they had tested a number of preparations derived from such plants.

Some of them showed strong tumor-inhibiting action, especially against one form of mouse leukemia, they said.

The scientists said attempts are now under way to isolate and purify the active principle.

After five stitches were taken in his scalp, LaRue was booked on suspicion of assault, battery and disturbing the peace Sunday. The complaint was signed by his wife, Paddie, and Mrs. Osborn.

What started the argument at the home of friends was not disclosed.

Takes Two-Ton Lathe Home on Retirement

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Many retiring employees go home with a wrist watch as a token of "well done" after their last day on the job.

Edwin W. Niedzielski, who retired after 41 years with Buick, went home with the two-ton lathe he had used for nearly 30 years.

Niedzielski bought the lathe from Buick for $62. The auto firm paid $3,414.79 for it back in 1929.

The retired auto worker plans to put the lathe in his garage. "I just want the pleasure of owning it and looking at it," he said.

American Grandma Seems To Be Getting Younger!

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The American grandma seems to be getting younger. The average woman in this country now has her last child at the age of 26, becomes a grandmother at 44.

In the Soviet Union 80 per cent of the college students are paid by the government to go to school. Soviet professors get up to $60,000 a year plus, in some cases, a summer home and a chauffeured car. But their freedom isn't even academic!

What do you pay for medicine? The average prescription now costs $2.90. And more and more women are getting notions of a career amid the lotions. Some 12.1 per cent of students in pharmacy schools are women.

A milk cow really enjoys being on the wagon. She drinks between 12 and 15 gallons of water every day.

There is a lot of blue-sky speculation about space today. We actually may have worldwide television in another decade but it is highly unlikely you or your neighbor will make a tourist trip to the moon.

There is no greater assurance of success than superb self-assurance. Andrew Maurois once wrote, "Bernard Shaw thinks himself greater than Shakespeare," to which Shaw modestly replied, "I don't just think it—I am!" (Well, he did leave a larger estate than Shakespeare.)

Even veteran New Yorkers are amazed at the speed with which skyscrapers are rising in mid-Manhattan today. But the Empire State Building, which required 7 million man hours to build, remains the champ. It was put up in 1 year and 45 days.

The United States spends 160 million dollars a year on toothbrushes and dentifrices, yet dental disease remains the nation's most chronic and expensive health problem.

Strike Report

HONOLULU — Hawaii's four-month sugar strike in 1958 caused a drop in sugar cane production, but raised molasses production by 2,500 tons over the 1957 figure.

The Hawaiian Sugar Planters Assn. explained that the strike resulted in lowering the purity of cane juices. Because the juices contained less sucrose, more of the non-sucrose content was available for processing into molasses.

Double Pain

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Okla. — While in the field checking his cattle, J. A. Armitage was kicked by a cow. He grabbed a stick and whacked it across the animal's side. The stick broke and left a splinter in his hand, requiring a trip to the doctor.

Stanley Jones Is Selected American Exchange Student

By Douglas Shoemaker

The American Field Service and the Sedalia Branch of the American Association of University Women announced this past week that Stanley Jones has been chosen to be an American exchange student abroad this summer. Stanley is very active at Smith-Cotton. This past quarter he earned three excellent grade cards, while studying five subjects, when the average student has only four. Stanley is one of Smith-Cotton's reporters and active in the Latin Club. He has prepared well with many background subjects for this trip abroad, including two years of Latin, world history, and American history.

The English Department a few weeks ago sent many poems to the National High School Poetry Association of Los Angeles, Calif. The association publishes the "Anthology of High School Poetry," which is a collection of poems by high school students. Notice has been received of those students whose poems will be used in the publication.

Those in the special mention group are Linda Bunn, Jim Rodewald, Sally Loeb and Jacqueline Peace.

Others receiving acceptance certificates are Jon Waller, Carolyn Thomas, Judy Stivers, Nancy Yesen, Charlene Allison, Virginia Hilton, Beverly Fleming, Patty Huffman, Sharon Fischer, Kathy Hanna, Douglas Shoemaker, Tressa Knapp, Janette Ady, Peggy Alexander, Dolly Alexander, Savannah Bohling, John Buchholtz, Sue Holdeman, Judy Lane, Carl Mittelhauser, Marva Mustain, and Al Sutherland.

Journalists Report On Dictatorships

ZURICH, Switzerland, (AP)—A journalist may risk his life today by reporting the news factually in a totalitarian nation.

A cartoonist may be jailed for his caricature of a government official.

These are some of the "facts of life" newspapermen face in dictatorial regimes, says a study on "The Press in Authoritarian Countries," issued today by the International Press Institute. This organization of editors representing 500 newspapers in 38 nations compiled the survey from reports of journalists who have lived or visited countries—Communist or non-Communist—where the press is subjected to government control.

The study reports a "spirit of revolt against the complete tutelage of the press by the state" is making itself felt in totalitarian nations where some journalists are "prepared to run grave risks in defying government authority for the sake of their aspirations."

After the 1956 Hungarian revolution was suppressed by Soviet might, journalist Jozsef Gali and a colleague, Gyula Obersovsky, continued to publish a clandestine newspaper.

According to charges subsequently filed, their paper contained "articles against the government and the U.S.S.R."

The men were sentenced to death, but this was later commuted to life imprisonment for Gali and 15 years for Obersovsky.

Attempts to defy Franco's censorship in Spain have become more frequent and increasingly bolder.

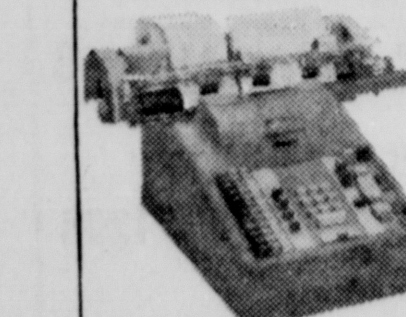

Last year, a cartoonist for the satirical publication "La Codorniz" was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and fined.

Other examples for 1956-1958 are reported from the Soviet Union, Poland, Communist China, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Yugoslavia, Portugal, Latin America, Egypt and the Far East.

Most of the countries whose government are Marxist-inspired deny the existence of censorship, but their conception of the press and methods for controlling it are similar, the study reports.

The study concludes with the affirmation that only in countries where information is controlled and newspapers held in bondage is freedom of the press appreciated — by contrast — for its true value.

Symington Says He Has No Plan to Enter Presidential Primary

TOPEKA (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) says that he has no plans to enter any presidential preference primaries.

Attending a statewide rally of Kansas Democrats, Symington was asked when he will decide whether to seek his party's presidential nomination. He said, "I have no plans and therefore will have no announcement."

In a speech, Symington proposed substituting some of the nation's surplus products for dollars in the foreign aid program.

Another subject of speculation, Kansas Gov. George Docking, said his 1960 political plans hinge on what the party wants. "If they need me most to run for county clerk instead of governor, that's what I will run for," he said.

Docking is expected to seek either a third term or the U. S. Senate seat now held by Republican Andrew Schoepel.

Searches End Successfully; Children Well

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All-night searches for three youngsters lost in widely separated parts of the nation had happy endings Sunday.

Two little boys were missing in rough mountain country in Colorado and Washington, while a tiny girl wandered away from home in Michigan.

Some 150 searchers, aided by two planes and a bloodhound, combed the woods and pastures near St. Joseph, Mich., for three-year-old Virginia Lee Ford before she was found unharmed and asleep in a weed-covered field about a mile from her home.

The girl, wearing a snowsuit, apparently suffered no ill effects from the sub-freezing weather, doctors said.

In the far West, bloodhounds led searchers to five-year-old Brian Brehmeyer as he cuddled a pet beagle in the foothills west of Shelton, Wash.

Brian, one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brehmeyer, had wandered from home Saturday. He endured 20 hours of waiting and 40-degree temperatures before greeting his rescuers. "I didn't cry,"

Planes, a helicopter and dogs joined the search south of Grand Junction, Colo., for frail Sammy Jennings, 7.

The 55-pound first-grader strayed from a family picnic Saturday. He has sight in only one eye, is in poor health and has a speech impediment.

Searchers found him 18 hours later atop a pinnacle of rock in the remote Unaweep Canyon area. "I prayed to Jesus all night long," the boy murmured. "I was too scared to go to sleep, and I got awful hungry. I just prayed and prayed."

The temperature dipped to 29 degrees early Sunday at Grand Junction.

Flier Leaves Cuba After Death Ruling

CHICAGO (AP) — Alan Robert Nye is back home with his family in nearby Whiting, Ind., and says he wants to forget quickly his imprisonment in Cuba and suspended death sentence for the alleged plot to kill Premier Fidel Castro.

The 31-year-old former U. S. Navy flier landed at Midway Airport Sunday night on a flight from Havana, less than 20 hours after a Cuban military tribunal pronounced a death sentence. The tribunal suspended the sentence on condition Nye leave Cuba within 48 hours.

Nye, who steadfastly maintained his innocence during his 106 days in jail and at the trial, was greeted at the airport by his mother, Mrs. Joseph Lynch, 51.

"We're all right now mom, aren't we?" Nye asked, embracing his mother. "Don't cry. We're safe now."

Then the gangling Nye, appearing jubilant, turned and kissed his stepfather, Daniel Lynch, who had attended Nye's trial in Havana and flew back with him and his attorney Joseph P. Sullivan.

Both Nye and Sullivan declined to comment on Nye's conviction on charges of conspiring to kill Castro while Castro was fighting to overthrow the Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista. Nye was arrested last December and had been a prisoner in grim La Cabaña fortress overlooking Havana since January.

Dressed in khaki trousers, a tan cloth jacket, blue sports shirt and black combat boots, Nye told reporters: "I'm just glad to be home. I'm going to Whiting and get a good rest."

Asked about his imprisonment and trial, he said: "I can't discuss Cuban politics and I don't want to say anything about my trial." "Cuban politics don't concern me anymore and never will again. I'll never go back there again." (The military tribunal said Nye will face a firing squad if he ever returns to Cuba).

At New Orleans earlier, Nye said he had about as much chance of getting a fair trial in Havana "as a snowball in that place fade famous by Dante."

Grace Mackey Divides Estate Among Friends

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP) — Grace Mackey was a stern mannered woman who put great faith in the devotion of friends.

Although wealthy, she never allowed financial standards to interfere with friendship.

She was fond of Ed Fox, 76, a taxicab driver who often provided transportation on her trips around this southern Arizona community.

She liked Ruby Hall, 46, a dining room hostess, who dropped by for a nightly visit.

Chief of Police Percy Bowden was her advisor. She called Ernie Beyer, 69, a bank cashier at nearby Bisbee, a close friend; and the same for Helen Ellis, a Colorado Springs, Colo., widow.

Mrs. Mackey, whose late husband founded the famed Gadsden Hotel of Douglas, died last August at 84. The division of her estate was announced recently.

Mrs. Hall received a check for $78,933. So did Bowden.

Fox, who has been worried about security for his old age, was willed $22,522. So were Beyer and Mrs. Ellis.

She divided the rest of her estate—which totaled $285,500 after taxes—among friends around the nation.

Left without a dime was Mrs. Mackey's only relative — Evelyn Letts, a niece now living in England. The two women had an argument back in 1945.

But after an attorney threatened to contest the will for Mrs. Letts, she was granted $15,000 from the estate.

Jimmy Gleason Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Jimmy Gleason—the dour, long-faced actor who played character roles in scores of Hollywood films—died late Sunday night.

Gleason, 72, had been in ill health for a year. Death came at the motion picture country house hospital in nearby Woodland Hills. His last part was a minor role in "The Last Hurrah."

Governor of Virginia Is Closely Guarded After Sniping Try

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Police today maintained an unprecedented security vigil about Virginia's governor after a reported attempt on his life.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. was shot at Friday, officers said, as he walked near the executive mansion en route to the Capitol.

Capitol police doubled their guard at the mansion. State and Richmond city police promised closer surveillance of the Capitol grounds.

"I hate to see more security around here, but I guess I should take the advice of the police authorities," Almond said.

The Virginia governor recently has been the target of abuse and threats from anonymous telephone callers and letter writers who accuse him of selling out in the school segregation issue.

Almond, once an advocate of massive resistance to school integration, recently has taken a more moderate stand.
